

DOUBLE FEATURES

BIG IDEAS IN FILM

Reference List

DOUBLE FEATURES

BIG IDEAS IN FILM

Reference List

Yossarian Is Alive and Well in the Mexican Desert Nora Ephron	4
Countercultural Architecture and Dramatic Structure David Mamet	6
Shooting to Kill (selection) Christine Vachon	7
Laugh, Cry, Believe: Spielbergization and Its Discontents J. Hoberman	10
In the Blink of an Eye (selection) Walter Murch	15
“One Hang, We All Hang”: High Plains Drifter Richard Hutson	16
Lynch on Lynch (selection) Chris Rodley, interview with David Lynch	18
John Wayne: A Love Song Joan Didion	19
Nonstop Action: Why Hollywood’s Aging Heroes Won’t Give Up the Gun Adam Mars-Jones	20
Willing Lorrie Moore	23

Furiosa: The Virago of Mad Max: Fury Road	24
Jess Zimmerman
Scary Movies	25
Kim Addonizio
Skyshot	26
Manuel Muñoz
Edward Hopper's New York Movie	27
Joseph Stanton
Why We Crave Horror Movies	28
Stephen King
Matinée	32
Robert Coover
The Last Movie	33
Rachel Hadas
Some Months After My Father's Death	34
Sheryl St. Germain
The Birds (selection)	35
Camille Paglia
Your Childhood Entertainment Is Not Sacred	37
Nathan Rabin
Pygmalion's Ghost: Female AI and Technological Dream Girls	38
Angelica Jade Bastién
The Solace of Preparing Fried Foods and Other Quaint Remembrances from 1960s Mississippi: Thoughts on The Help	39
Roxane Gay
Better Living Through Criticism: How to Think About Art, Pleasure, Beauty, and Truth (selection)	40
A. O. Scott

Yossarian Is Alive and Well in the Mexican Desert

Nora Ephron

Seth Allen, actor
Alan Arkin, actor, director, producer, screenwriter, and writer
Bob Balaban, actor and director
Martin Balsam, actor
Beatles, musical group
Richard “Dick” Benjamin, actor and director
Susanne Benton, actor
Peter Bogdanovich, actor, critic, director, producer, and writer
James Bond, literary character created by Ian Fleming and film series
Peter Bonerz, actor and director
Richard Brooks, director, producer, screenwriter, and writer
Cahiers du Cinéma, French film magazine
John Calley, producer
Candy, novel by Terry Southern and film
Catch-22, novel by Joseph Heller and film
Citizen Kane, film
Columbia, film studio
Norman Fell, actor
Art Garfunkel, actor, musician, singer, songwriter, and writer
Jack Gilford, actor
The Graduate, novel by Charles Webb and film
The Green Berets, film
Buck Henry, screenwriter
Alfred Hitchcock, director and producer
Barbara Hutton, socialite and philanthropist
Pauline Kael, critic
Jack Lemmon, actor, director, musician, and singer
Richard Lester, director
Luv, play
Midas, mythical king
Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, eighteenth-century Austrian composer
Bob Newhart, actor and comedian
Mike Nichols, director
The Odd Couple, play

Yossarian Is Alive and Well in the Mexican Desert, continued

Sam O'Steen, film editor

Paramount/Filmways, film studio

Austin Pendleton, actor

Anthony Perkins, actor

Plaza Suite, play

Paula Prentiss, actor

Richard Quine, screenwriter

Jean Renoir, actor, director, producer, screenwriter, and writer

Andrew Sarris, critic

Richard Sylbert, designer

Elizabeth Taylor, actor

Pyotr Ilyich Tchaikovsky, nineteenth-century Russian composer

Touch of Evil, film

The Trial, novel by Franz Kafka and film

François Truffaut, actor, critic, director, producer, screenwriter, and writer

David Watkin, cinematographer

John Wayne, actor and producer

Orson Welles, actor, director, producer, and writer

Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?, play by Edward Albee and film

Countercultural Architecture and Dramatic Structure

David Mamet

ADR (automatic dialogue reading)

Frank Capra, director, producer, and screenwriter

Cary Grant, actor

Werner Herzog, actor, director, screenwriter, and writer

Shooting to Kill (selection)

Christine Vachon

Julie Andrews, actor, musician, and writer
Angelika Film Center, film theater in New York City
anorexia nervosa, eating disorder that results in unhealthy weight loss
Apparatus, film production company
Patricia Arquette, actor
Barbie doll
Bard College
Basquiat, film
Warren Beatty, actor, director, producer, and screenwriter
Bonnie and Clyde, film
Boogie Nights, film
The Brady Bunch, television show
Brown University
Karen Carpenter, musician and singer
Richard Carpenter, musician, producer, singer, and songwriter
Celine and Julie Go Boating, film
Collective for Living Cinema, film theater in New York City
The Conversation, film
Tom Cruise, actor and producer
Ira Deutchman, producer
DuArt, film laboratory
Barry Ellsworth, producer
The English Patient, film
Entertainment Tonight, television show
Karen Finley, performance artist
Michel Foucault, social and literary theorist
The 400 Blows, film
Fox Searchlight, film company
John Frohnmayer, chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts
Full House, television show
Gilligan's Island, television show
Go Fish, film
Roy Halston, designer
Mary Harron, director
John Hart, producer
Todd Haynes, director, producer, and screenwriter

Shooting to Kill (selection), continued

I'm Losing You, novel by Bruce Wagner and film
I Shot Andy Warhol, film
 Tom Kalin, director
Kids, film
 Killer Films, production company
Kiss Me, Guido, film
 Pam Koffler, filmmaker
 Julia Kristeva, literary theorist and psychoanalyst
 Lindsay Law, studio executive
 Shirley MacLaine, actor
 Ewan McGregor, actor
Mean Streets, film
 H. L. Mencken, early twentieth-century critic and journalist
 Metro, film theater in New York City
 Christian Metz, film theorist
The Michael Alig Story, film script
Midnight Cowboy, film
 Dan Minahan, screenwriter
My Beautiful Laundrette, film
Nashville, film
 National Endowment for the Arts
 October Films, film company
Office Killer, film
 Bettie Page, pinup model
Parting Glances, film
Patton, film
 Kim Peirce, director
Poison, film
The Poseidon Adventure, film
Pulp Fiction, film
 Lou Reed, musician, singer, and songwriter
 Jean Renoir, director, screenwriter, actor, and producer
 Jonathan Rhys Meyers, actor
 Jacques Rivette, director
 Alain Robbe-Grillet, director, screenwriter, and writer
The Rules of the Game, film
Safe, film
 “Satellite of Love,” song by Lou Reed
 Sherwood Schwartz, television producer

Shooting to Kill (selection), continued

Cindy Sherman, director and photographer

Bill Sherwood, director

Shine, film

Simply Halston, film project

Slamdance Film Festival

Sling Blade, film

John Sloss, attorney

Slumdance Film Festival

Todd Solondz, actor, director, and writer

Todd Solondz Untitled, film project

The Sound of Music, film

Stranger Than Paradise, film

Jean-Marie Straub, director

Studio 54, dance club in New York City

Sundance Film Festival

Superstar: The Karen Carpenter Story, film

Sweetie, film

Swoon, film

Take It Like a Man, film script

Thalia, film theater in New York City

Three's Company, television show

Rose Troche, producer

2001: A Space Odyssey, film

Variety, magazine

Velvet Goldmine, film

Washington Post, newspaper

Welcome to the Dollhouse, film

Reverend Donald Wildmon, founder of the American Family Association

Zeitgeist, film distributor

Laugh, Cry, Believe: Spielbergization and Its Discontents

J. Hoberman

Gila Almagor, actor

al Qaeda

Robert Altman, director, producer, and screenwriter

Amistad, film

Philip Anschutz, fundraiser and producer

Apocalypse Now, film

John Ashcroft, US attorney general

Eric Bana, actor

The Battle of Algiers, film

John Baxter, writer

Warren Beatty, actor, director, producer, and screenwriter

Kenneth Bergquist, brigadier general and assistant secretary of the US Navy

The Big Lift, film

Black Hawk Down, film

Blue Velvet, film

Humphrey Bogart, actor

Timothy Bottoms, actor

Albert Brooks, actor, comedian, director, and screenwriter

Jerry Bruckheimer, producer

George W. Bush, forty-third president of the United States

Carrie, novel by Stephen King and film

Jimmy Carter, thirty-ninth president of the United States

Catch Me If You Can, film

Dick Cheney, US vice president under George W. Bush

Lionel Chetwynd, director, producer, and screenwriter

Children's Defense Fund

Hillary Clinton, First Lady of the United States and US Secretary of State

William "Bill" Clinton, forty-second president of the United States

George Clooney, actor, director, producer, and screenwriter

Close Encounters of the Third Kind, film

The Color Purple, novel by Alice Walker and film

Columbia, film studio

Francis Ford Coppola, composer, director, producer, and screenwriter

David Cronenberg, actor, director, and screenwriter

Laugh, Cry, Believe: Spielbergization and Its Discontents, continued

Tom Cruise, actor and producer
Anthony Curtis, actor
The Day After Tomorrow, film
DC 9/11: Time of Crisis, television show
D-Day, World War II military offensive
Deep Impact, film
Brian De Palma, director
Department of Defense [DOD]
Walt Disney, cartoonist, producer, and theme park founder
Edward Dmytryk, director
Bob Dole, US senator
Kirk Douglas, actor, director, producer, and writer
DreamWorks, film studio
Dr. Strangelove, film
Jacques Ellul, philosopher
Roland Emmerich, director
E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial, film
Fahrenheit 9/11, film
Fail-Safe, film
Dakota Fanning, actor
Jane Fonda, actor
A Gathering of Eagles, film
David Geffen, producer and studio executive
Mel Gibson, actor, director, producer, and screenwriter
Jean-Luc Godard, director and screenwriter
The Godfather, film
The Godfather: Part II, film
Godzilla, monster originating from Japanese films
Golem of Prague
Great Depression
Al Green, musician
Ground Zero, New York City
Tom Hanks, actor, director, producer, and screenwriter
Alfred Hitchcock, director and producer
Hollywood Reporter, magazine
Hollywood Writers' Mobilization, political organization
Hook, film
Henry Hyde, US representative
Independence Day, film

Laugh, Cry, Believe: Spielbergization and Its Discontents, continued

Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom, film
 Institute for Creative Technologies, University of Southern California program
 Iraq War
The Iron Curtain, film
 Peter Jackson, director, producer, and screenwriter
Jaws, film
 Indiana Jones, character in Raiders of the Lost Ark and subsequent films in the series
 Carl Jung, early twentieth-century Swiss psychoanalyst and writer
Jurassic Park, film
 Jeffrey Katzenberg, producer and studio executive
 John F. Kennedy, thirty-fifth president of the United States
 John F. Kennedy assassination, November 22, 1963
 John Kerry, US secretary of state
 David Koepp, screenwriter
 Korean War
 John Howard Lawson, playwright and screenwriter
 Spike Lee, actor, director, producer, and screenwriter
 Janet Leigh, actor
 Curtis LeMay, US Air Force general
 “Let’s Stay Together,” song
 Monica Lewinsky, White House intern
 Abraham Lincoln, sixteenth president of the United States
Looking for Comedy in the Muslim World, film
Los Angeles Times, newspaper
 George Lucas, director, producer, and screenwriter
 David Lynch, director
The Manchurian Candidate, film
 Marshall McLuhan, critic
 Golda Meir, prime minister of Israel
 MGM [Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer], film studio
Minority Report, short story by Philip K. Dick and film
 Michael Moore, activist, documentary filmmaker, and writer
 Mossad, Israeli national intelligence agency
Munich, film
 Rupert Murdoch, network executive
 Viktor Navorski, character in the film The Terminal
 Liam Neeson, actor
New York Times, newspaper
 1972 Munich Olympics massacre

Laugh, Cry, Believe: Spielbergization and Its Discontents, continued

Old Testament

Bill O'Reilly, television personality and writer

Oscars [Academy Awards]

José Padilla, American convicted of aiding terrorists

Paramount, film studio

Walter Parkes, producer

Patriot Act

The Peacemaker, film

Pearl Harbor, film

Arthur Penn, director

Peter Pan, play by James Barrie and film

Philadelphia, film

PLO [Palestinian Liberation Organization]

Psycho, film

Raiders of the Lost Ark, film

Rambo, film

Ronald Reagan, actor and fortieth president of the United States

Robert Redford, actor, director, and producer

Condoleezza Rice, US secretary of state

Ginger Rogers, actor, dancer, and singer

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, thirty-second president of the United States

Steve Ross, studio executive

Robert Rossen, screenwriter

Donald Rumsfeld, US secretary of defense

Saving Private Ryan, film

Oskar Schindler, German industrialist and Nazi resister

Schindler's List, film

Arnold Schwarzenegger, actor, bodybuilder, director, and governor of California

Martin Scorsese, director, film historian, producer, and screenwriter

September 11 attacks, 2001 terrorist act against New York City and Washington, DC

Seven Days in May, film

Jeff Skoll, businessman and producer

Jack Smith, actor, director, pioneer of underground filmmaking

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, film

Steven Spielberg, director, producer, and screenwriter

Starship Troopers, film

Star Wars, film and film series

Oliver Stone, director, producer, and screenwriter

Strategic Air Command

Laugh, Cry, Believe: Spielbergization and Its Discontents, continued

The Sum of All Fears, novel by Tom Clancy and film
Sword of Gideon, television show
Syriana, film
Taxi Driver, film
The Terminal, film
Irving Thalberg, producer
That's My Bush!, television show
Time, magazine
Titanic, film
Twentieth Century Fox, film studio
UCLA [University of California at Los Angeles]
Universal, film studio
Vengeance, book by George Jonas and film
Henry Wallace, US vice president under Franklin Delano Roosevelt
Warner Brothers, entertainment company
War of the Worlds, novel by H. G. Wells, radio broadcast, and film
Watergate scandal
John Wayne, actor and producer
The West Wing, television show
We Were Soldiers, film
“When You Wish Upon a Star,” song
World Trade Center
Writers and Artists of the Soviet Union, political organization
Boris Yeltsin, president of Russia
Y2K panic
Darryl F. Zanuck, studio executive

In the Blink of an Eye (selection)

Walter Murch

Apocalypse Now, film

Ingmar Bergman, director, producer, and screenwriter

The Conversation, film

Francis Ford Coppola, director

Dragnet, television show

Gene Hackman, actor

Alfred Hitchcock, director and producer

Stanley Kubrick, director, screenwriter, and producer

Auguste and Louis Lumière, nineteenth-century French filmmakers

Modest Mussorgsky, composer

Pictures at an Exhibition, piano suite

Sviatoslav Richter, musician

“Ride of the Valkyries,” opera segment

Rope, film

The Shining, novel by Stephen King and film

Richard Wagner, composer

“One Hang, We All Hang”: High Plains Drifter

Richard Hutson

Robert Altman, director, producer, and screenwriter
 William Bradford, governor of Plymouth Colony
 Harry Callahan, character in the Dirty Harry film series
 Gary Cooper, actor
 James Fenimore Cooper, nineteenth-century writer
Deadwood, television show
Dirty Harry, film and film series
 Dollars trilogy, films: A Fistful of Dollars, For a Few Dollars More, and The Good, the Bad and the Ugly
 Wyatt Earp, character based on a real-life gambler and lawman from the Old West
 Clint Eastwood, actor, composer, director, and producer
 Henry Fonda, actor and producer
 John Ford, director, producer, and screenwriter
 Carl Foreman, screenwriter
 Dashiell Hammett, writer
 William S. Hart, actor, director, and producer
 Howard Hawks, director and producer
Hell's Hinges, film
 Michael Henry [Wilson], film historian and filmmaker
High Noon, film
 Akira Kurosawa, director, producer, and screenwriter
 Sergio Leone, director, producer, and screenwriter
The Man from Laramie, film
 Anthony Mann, director
Man of the West, film
 Man With No Name, stock character in Sergio Leone Westerns
McCabe and Mrs. Miller, film
 McCarthyism, wave of anti-communist sentiment and fear in the 1950s
 Paul Newman, activist, actor, director, and producer
Of Plymouth Plantation, book by William Bradford
Once Upon a Time in the West, film
The Prairie, novel by James Fenimore Cooper
 Ronald Reagan, actor and fortieth president of the United States
Red Harvest, novel by Dashiell Hammett

“One Hang, We All Hang”: High Plains Drifter, continued

Rio Bravo, film

Richard Schickel, critic and film historian

Randolph Scott, actor

Shane, film

Don Siegel, director

Paul Smith, writer

Preston Sturges, director

Jonathan Swift, eighteenth-century Anglo-Irish satirist

Klaus Theweleit, sociologist and writer

Ernest Tidyman, screenwriter

Tom Jones, novel by Henry Fielding and film

Vietnam War

Wagonmaster, film

John Wayne, actor and producer

Owen Wister, early twentieth-century writer

Robin Wood, critic

Yojimbo, film

Lynch on Lynch (selection)

Chris Rodley, interview with David Lynch

Ingmar Bergman, director, producer, and screenwriter

Center for Advanced Film Studies, American Film Institute

Eraserhead, film

Federico Fellini, director and screenwriter

Sigmund Freud, early twentieth-century Austrian psychoanalyst and writer

George Godwin, writer

Werner Herzog, actor, director, screenwriter, and writer

Jack Nance, actor

O. J. Simpson trial

Stroszek, film

Jacques Tati, director

Twin Peaks, television show

Walking the Perimeter of Germany, journal kept by Werner Herzog

John Wayne: A Love Song

Joan Didion

Michael Anderson Jr., actor
Bible
Bookbinder's, seafood restaurant in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Bordeaux, type of French wine
Boy Scouts of America
Sammy Davis Jr., actor, comedian, dancer, and singer
Jack Dempsey, boxer
John Ford, director
Bob Goodfried, studio executive
Mack Gray, actor
William S. Hart, actor, director, and producer
Hatari!, film
Henry Hathaway, director and producer
The High and the Mighty, film
Earl Holliman, actor
Hedda Hopper, gossip columnist
Martha Hyer, actor
J&B, brand of Scotch whisky
Juicy Fruit, brand of chewing gum
Dean Martin, actor, comedian, producer, and singer
Mike Mazurki, actor and wrestler
Pilar Pallete, actor and wife of John Wayne
Pouilly-Fuissé, type of French white wine
"The Red River Valley," song
Sigma Chi fraternity
The Sons of Katie Elder, film
Estelle Taylor, actor
Twentieth Century Fox, film studio
University of Southern California
Ralph Volkie, actor and trainer
Hal Wallis, producer
Raoul Walsh, actor and director
War of the Wildcats, film
John Wayne, actor and producer

Nonstop Action: Why Hollywood's Aging Heroes Won't Give Up the Gun

Adam Mars-Jones

Robert Aldrich, director

All About Eve, film

Pedro Almodóvar, director and screenwriter

Anatomy of a Murder, novel by John D. Voelker [pen name Robert Traver] and film

Kathy Bates, actor

Beatles, musical group

Luc Besson, director

The Bodyguard, film

Humphrey Bogart, actor

Boyhood, film

Francisca Caballero, actor

James Cagney, actor

Truman Capote, writer

Charlie Chaplin, composer, screenwriter, and silent-film actor

George Clooney, actor, director, producer, and screenwriter

Ellar Coltrane, actor

Sean Connery, actor

Kevin Costner, actor and producer

Joan Crawford, actor

Macaulay Culkin, actor

Bette Davis, actor

James Dean, actor

Judi Dench, actor and singer

Robert De Niro, actor, director, and producer

G rard Depardieu, actor

Destry Rides Again, film

Marlene Dietrich, actor and singer

The Expendables 3, film

Facebook, social media platform

Far and Away, film

Colin Firth, actor

Follies, musical

Henry Fonda, actor and producer

Jane Fonda, activist and actor

Nonstop Action: Why Hollywood’s Aging Heroes Won’t Give Up the Gun, continued

Greta Garbo, actor

The Gauntlet, film

Richard Gere, actor

Ricky Gervais, actor, comedian, and writer

Gladiator, film

Maggie Grace, actor

Cary Grant, actor

Hugh Grant, actor

Jean Harlow, actor

Home Alone, film

Whitney Houston, actor, producer, and singer

John Hughes, director, producer, and screenwriter

“I’m Still Here,” song

Indiana Jones films: Raiders of the Lost Ark, Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom, Indiana

Jones and the Last Crusade, and Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull

It’s a Wonderful Life, film

Stephen King, writer

The King of Comedy, film

Christine Lagarde, head of the International Monetary Fund (IMF)

Life’s Too Short, television show

Richard Linklater, director and screenwriter

Love Actually, film

Paul McCartney, composer, musician, producer, singer, and songwriter

Olivier Megaton, director

Stephen Merchant, actor, comedian, and writer

Helen Mirren, actor

Misery, novel by Stephen King and film

Mission Impossible films: Mission Impossible, Mission Impossible 2, Mission Impossible 3,

Mission Impossible: Ghost Protocol, Mission Impossible: Rogue Nation, and Mission

Impossible 6

Marilyn Monroe, actor

Moonlighting, television show

Pierre Morel, director

Mount Rushmore

Mrs. Brown, film

Liam Neeson, actor

North by Northwest, film

On Golden Pond, film

Oscar [Academy Award]

Nonstop Action: Why Hollywood’s Aging Heroes Won’t Give Up the Gun, continued

Al Pacino, actor

The Philadelphia Story, play by Philip Barry and film

RED, film

Edward G. Robinson, actor

Robot Chicken, television show

Mickey Rourke, actor

Mark Rydell, director

Eva Marie Saint, actor

sex, lies and videotape, film

The Shootist, film

Steven Soderbergh, director and screenwriter

Stephen Sondheim, composer and lyricist

James Spader, actor

Steven Spielberg, director, producer, and screenwriter

Star Wars films featuring Harrison Ford: Star Wars, The Empire Strikes Back, The Return of the Jedi, and Star Wars: The Force Awakens

James “Jimmy” Stewart, actor

Meryl Streep, actor

Taken, film

Quentin Tarantino, actor, director, and screenwriter

Spencer Tracy, actor

Twitter, social media platform

Vertigo, film

Victoria, nineteenth-century queen of the United Kingdom

Gore Vidal, writer

John Wayne, actor and producer

Welcome to New York, film

Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?, film

Bruce Willis, actor

Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown, film

The Wrestler, film

Willing

Lorrie Moore

Anna Karenina, novel by Leo Tolstoy

Autoweek, magazine

Marlon Brando, actor, civil rights activist, and director

Walt Disney, cartoonist, producer, and theme park founder

Marshall Field's, department store based in Chicago

Joyce Carol Oates, writer

Palmer House Hotel, Chicago

Django Reinhardt, composer and musician

Martin Scorsese, director, film historian, producer, and screenwriter

Furiosa: The Virago of Mad Max: Fury Road

Jess Zimmerman

Academy Awards [Oscars]

Alanna, novel by Tamora Pierce

Alien, film

Amazons, women warriors in Greek mythology

Artemis, Greek goddess of virginity and the hunt

Boadicea, first-century queen of a British Celtic tribe

Britomart, character in The Faerie Queene by Edward Spenser

Lara Croft, character in the Tomb Raider franchise

Die Hard, film

The Faerie Queene, sixteenth-century epic poem by Edward Spenser

Ghostbusters, film released in 1984 and remade in 2016

Guardian, newspaper

Tom Hardy, actor

Hollywood Reporter, magazine

Jillian Holtzmann, character in the 2016 film Ghostbusters

Imperator Furiosa, character in Mad Max: Fury Road

Jessica Jones, television show

Beatrix Kiddo, character in the film Kill Bill

George Miller, director and screenwriter

Orlando Furioso, sixteenth-century epic poem by Ludovico Ariosto

Return of Kings, website

Ellen Ripley, character in the film Alien

Semiramis, legendary Assyrian warrior queen

Charlize Theron, actor

Trojan horse, basis of legend from the Trojan War about the subterfuge of the Greek military

Valkyries, female figures in Norse mythology who choose who lives and dies in battle

Bruce Willis, actor

Wired, magazine

Wonder Woman, superhero based on DC comics character

Scary Movies

Kim Addonizio

Baronet Theater, film theater in Asbury Park, New Jersey
Cyclops, one-eyed monster in Greek mythology

Skyshot

Manuel Muñoz

Robert Altman, director, producer, and screenwriter
Hal Ashby, director
Ned Beatty, actor
Ronee Blakley, actor, singer, and songwriter
Joan Crawford, actor
Melvyn Douglas, actor
Shelley Duvall, actor, comedian, producer, singer, and screenwriter
Fresno State University
William Friedkin, director
Sidney Lumet, director
Nashville, film
Patricia Neal, actor
Paul Newman, activist, actor, director, and producer
North by Northwest, film
Quetzalcoatl, Aztec creator deity
Martin Ritt, director
Miklos Rozsa, composer
Lily Tomlin, actor and comedian
University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA)
University of Southern California (USC)
Vietnam War
John Williams, composer

Edward Hopper's New York Movie

Joseph Stanton

Fred Astaire, actor, choreographer, dancer, and singer

Hitachi, brand of electronics

Edward Hopper, painter

New York Movie, painting by Edward Hopper

Ginger Rogers, actor, dancer, and singer

Why We Crave Horror Movies

Stephen King

The Abominable Dr. Phibes, film
American Graffiti, film
The Amityville Horror, book by Jay Anson and film
The Andromeda Strain, film
James Arness, actor
“Baby Elephant Walk,” song
Batman, comic book, film, and television show
Beatles, musical group
Tony Beckley, actor
Beginning of the End, film
The Big Company Look, novel by J. Harvey Howells
Black Zoo, film
Linda Blair, actor
The Body Snatcher, short story by Robert Louis Stevenson and film
Born Innocent, television show
James Brolin, actor, director, and producer
The Brood, film
The Car, film
Carrie, novel by Stephen King and film
Neville Chamberlain, prime minister of the United Kingdom
The China Syndrome, film
Cleveland Torso Murderer, 1930s serial killer
Colin Clive, actor
Close Encounters of the Third Kind, film
Robert Cornthwaite, actor
The Crash of '79, novel by Paul Emil Erdman
David Cronenberg, actor, director, and screenwriter
Cuban Missile Crisis
Dawn of the Dead, film
Demon Seed, film
Brian De Palma, director
Die, Monster, Die!, film
Dom Perignon, brand of champagne
Donald Duck, character in Disney cartoons
Richard Dreyfuss, actor
John Foster Dulles, US diplomat

Why We Crave Horror Movies, continued

Bob Dylan, musician, singer, and songwriter

Easy Rider, film

The Exorcist, novel by William Peter Blatty and film

Fillmore West, venue in California

Frederick's of Hollywood, lingerie purveyor

William Friedkin, director

Peter Fonda, actor

Bryan Forbes, director

The Forbin Project, film

4D Man, film

John Frankenheimer, director

Sigmund Freud, early twentieth-century Austrian psychoanalyst and writer

The Funeral: Vestige or Value?, book by Paul E. Irion

Garden of Eden

Gas House Kids, film

The Ghastly Ones, film

The Godfather, film

Rube Goldberg, cartoonist and inventor

Gone with the Wind, novel by Margaret Mitchell and film

Jacob and Wilhelm Grimm, nineteenth-century folklore collectors and writers

Hallmark, greeting card company

Howard Hawks, director and producer

Jimi Hendrix, musician, singer, and songwriter

High Noon, film

High School Confidential, film

Alfred Hitchcock, director and producer

The H-Man, film

Dennis Hopper, actor

The Horror of Party Beach, film

“I-Feel-Like-I’m-Fixin’-to-Die Rag” [also called the “Fish Cheer”], song by Country Joe and the Fish

If You Don’t Stop It, You’ll Go Blind, film

The Incredible Shrinking Man, film

Invasion of the Body Snatchers, film

“It’s Alright Ma, I’m Only Bleeding,” song

Iwo Jima

Freda Jackson, actor

Jack the Ripper, nineteenth-century British serial killer

Jaws, film

Why We Crave Horror Movies, continued

Janis Joplin, singer

Julia, film

Pauline Kael, critic

Boris Karloff, actor

William Katt, actor

John F. Kennedy assassination, November 22, 1963

Reddy Kilowatt, cartoon character used as symbol of the American electric industry

Henry Kissinger, US secretary of state

Stanley Kubrick, director, screenwriter, and producer

Charles Lederer, screenwriter

John Lennon, activist, musician, producer, singer, and songwriter

Little Richard, musician, singer, and songwriter

Luckies, aka Lucky Strikes, brand of cigarettes

Malibu Barbie doll

Peter Masterson, actor

Mercedes McCambridge, actor

Paul McCartney, composer, musician, producer, singer, and songwriter

McDonald's, fast food restaurant

Roger McGuinn, musician and songwriter

McTeague, novel by Frank Norris

Walter Mitty, character in James Thurber's short story "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty"

Mondo Cane, film

The Money Wolves, novel by Paul Erikson

The Night of the Lepus, film

Night of the Living Dead, film

Leonard Nimoy, actor, director, and writer

Christian Nyby, director

Oak Ridge, Tennessee, place where atomic bomb was developed

Pandora's Box

The Pit and the Pendulum, short story by Edgar Allan Poe and film

Paula Prentiss, actor

Vincent Price, actor

Prophecy, film

Psycho, film

Robert Redford, actor, director, and producer

Roller Boogie, film

George Romero, director and writer

Rosemary's Baby, novel by Ira Levin and film

Stuart Rosenberg, director

Why We Crave Horror Movies, continued

Diana Ross, actor and singer

Katherine Ross, actor

Samson, biblical Israelite warrior and judge

San Andreas Fault

Saturn 3, film

Margaret Sheridan, actor

Don Siegel, director

Star Wars, film and film series

The Stepford Wives, novel by Ira Levin and film

Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, novella by Robert Louis Stevenson

Larry Talbot, character in the film The Wolf Man

Tarantula, film

The Texas Chain Saw Massacre, film

Them!, film

The Thing, film

They Came from Within, film

Kenneth Tobey, actor

John Travolta, actor

The Turning Point, film

2001: A Space Odyssey, film

Warner Brothers, entertainment company

Waterford, brand of crystal

When a Stranger Calls, film

White Sands, New Mexico, site of “Trinity” atomic bomb test

Who Goes There?, novel by John W. Campbell

Woodstock Music & Art Fair, 1969 festival held in New York

World War II

Zion National Park, Utah

Matinée

Robert Coover

No specific references

The Last Movie

Rachel Hadas

Othello, play by William Shakespeare and film
Orson Welles, actor, director, producer, and writer

Some Months After My Father's Death

Sheryl St. Germain

Henry Fonda, actor and producer

Twelve Angry Men, play by Reginald Rose and film

The Birds (selection)

Camille Paglia

blindman's buff, children's game
 Peter Bogdanovich, actor, director, producer, and writer
 Cold War
 Salvador Dali, surrealist artist
 Daniel, Israelite king in the Bible
 Carl Dreyer, director
 Daphne du Maurier, writer
 Raymond Durgnat, critic
 Eleusinian mysteries, initiations to the cult of Demeter and Persephone in ancient Greece
Frenzy, film
 Remi Gassmann and Oskar Sala, inventors of the Trautonium
 Alberto Giacometti, sculptor and painter
Guernica, 1937 painting by Pablo Picasso
The Haunting, film
 Patty Hearst, heiress who was kidnapped at the age of nineteen
 Tippi Hedren, actor
 Alfred Hitchcock, director and producer
I Confess, film
 Margaret M. Horwitz, writer
 [Evan] Hunter [aka Ed McBain], novelist and screenwriter
 Joan of Arc, fifteenth-century French warrior and saint
Journey to the Center of the Earth, film
 Kon-Tiki expedition, 1947 raft journey from South America to the Polynesian Islands
The Last Judgment, fresco in the Sistine Chapel by Michelangelo
Les Femmes d'Alger (O. J. M.), 1907 painting by Pablo Picasso
 Little Orphan Annie, character in the 1920s comic strip and in film
 London Blitz, German bombing campaign during World War II
Marnie, film
 Michelangelo, Italian Renaissance architect, painter, poet, and sculptor
Notorious, film
 Oedipus, mythical Greek king of Thebes
 Pablo Picasso, painter, printmaker, and sculptor
 Pietà, an artwork that depicts the Virgin Mary holding Jesus's dead body
Psycho, film
 Red Queen and Alice, characters in Lewis Carroll's 1865 book Alice in Wonderland
Saboteur, film

The Birds (selection), continued

Sodom, biblical city destroyed by God for its wickedness

Statue of Liberty

Strangers on a Train, film

Symbionese Liberation Army, left-wing US revolutionary group

Trautonium, electronic musical instrument

Villa of the Mysteries, building in Rome near Pompeii in which first-century frescos survived the volcanic eruption in 70 CE

George Washington, first president of the United States

Your Childhood Entertainment Is Not Sacred

Nathan Rabin

J. J. Abrams, director

Michael Bay, director

James Bond, literary character created by Ian Fleming and film series

Sean Connery, actor

Paul Feig, director

Ghostbusters, film released in 1984 and remade in 2016

Ghostbusters 2, film

Indiana Jones, character in Raiders of the Lost Ark and subsequent films in the series

Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull, film

Jar Jar Binks, character in the film Star Wars Episode 1: The Phantom Menace

Rian Johnson, director

Melissa McCarthy, actor and comedian

Roger Moore, actor

Bill Murray, actor and comedian

Chris Pratt, actor

Scooby-Doo, television show and film

The Smurfs, television show and film

Star Trek, television show and film series

Star Wars, film and film series

Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, television show and film

Transformers, television show and film

Kristen Wiig, actor

Yogi Bear, television show and film

Pygmalion's Ghost: Female AI and Technological Dream Girls

Angelica Jade Bastién

Advantageous, film
AI, artificial intelligence
Charlie Jane Anders, writer
Kyle Buchanan, writer
Justin Chang, writer
“A Cyborg Manifesto,” essay by Donna Haraway
Doctor Strange, film
Jennifer Ehle, actor
Ex Machina, film
Alex Garland, director and writer
Ghost in the Shell, film
Domhnall Gleeson, actor
Donna Haraway, literary and social theorist
HBO, television network
Iron Fist, television show
Oscar Isaac, actor
Jacqueline Kim, actor
Samantha Kim, actor
Fritz Lang, director
LA Times, newspaper
Metropolis, film
Netflix, media platform
New Statesman, magazine
New York Magazine
Ovid, first-century BCE Roman poet
Jennifer Phang, director and writer
Pygmalion, Greek mythological figure and play by George Bernard Shaw
James Urbaniak, actor
Alicia Vikander, actor
Westworld, television show and film
Wired, magazine
Jen Yamato, writer

The Solace of Preparing Fried Foods and Other Quaint Remembrances from 1960s Mississippi: Thoughts on The Help

Roxane Gay

Corrina, Corrina, film
Viola Davis, actor and producer
Entertainment Weekly, magazine
Medgar Evers, civil rights activist
Ghost, film
Golden Girls, television show
The Green Mile, novel by Stephen King and film
The Help, novel by Kathryn Stockett and film
Bryce Dallas Howard, actor
Matthew Hughey, writer
Allison Janney, actor
Jim Crow laws
Junior League, women's social and philanthropic organization
John F. Kennedy, thirty-fifth president of the United States
John F. Kennedy assassination, November 22, 1963
The Legend of Bagger Vance, novel by Steven Pressfield and film
“magical negro,” supporting stock character in narratives
Ole Miss [University of Mississippi]
Oscars [Academy Awards]
Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves, film
Rosewood, film
The Secret Life of Bees, novel by Sue Monk Kidd and film
Sex and the City: The Movie, film
Social Problems, professional social science journal
Martha Southgate, writer
Sissy Spacek, actor
Octavia Spencer, actor and writer
Emma Stone, actor
Tate Taylor, director and screenwriter of The Help
Tony Awards
Cicely Tyson, actor and model
Unbreakable, film

Better Living Through Criticism: How to Think About Art, Pleasure, Beauty, and Truth (selection)

A. O. Scott

The Avengers, film

Avengers: Age of Ultron, film

Anton Ego, character in the film Ratatouille

Huffington Post, website

The Incredibles, film

Samuel L. Jackson, actor

Marvel Entertainment, publisher and film studio

New York Times, newspaper

Photoshop, computer program used to alter images

Pixar, film studio

Ratatouille, film

Remy, character in the film Ratatouille

Twitter, social media platform

Walt Disney Company, entertainment company

Joss Whedon, director

Mace Windu, character in Star Wars films

Jules Winnfield, character in the film Pulp Fiction